INVITATION

Dear Colleagues,

It is my great pleasure to welcome you to the 63rd Annual Congress of the Japan Society of Obstetrics and Gynecology which will be held in April 2011.

This congress encompasses all aspects of perinatology, endocrinology, oncology and women's health care. We have gathered together the world's leading experts, both from Japan and abroad. The congress is being held at the Osaka International Convention Center and Rihga Royal Hotel Osaka in the beautiful modern city of Osaka.

In addition to the scientific program of the congress, we have arranged exciting social events and excursions to the surrounding areas including Nara and Kyoto, famous historical cities in Japan. Now is the perfect time of year, with beautiful cherry blossoms throughout the city including at Osaka Castle Park.

I hope you will find the congress both useful and enjoyable.

Sincerely,

Professor Hiroshi Hoshiai, MD, PhD
Congress President

CITY OF OSAKA

Osaka, having flourished for centuries as Japan's foremost trading center, has developed into one of the country's most dynamic cities. As an economic and cultural center vital to the country's marine traffic since ancient times, the city has inherited a rich cultural heritage of traditional performing arts along with a wealth of shrines, temples and local festivals. It is also renowned for its enterprising spirit and vitality. Other cities within easy visiting distance include the world-renowned historic cities of Kyoto and Nara.

ACCESS TO OSAKA

The Kansai International Airport (KIX), slightly over forty minutes from the center of Osaka City, is the most-used international airport in Japan after Tokyo. It is easily accessible by train and car/bus.
